Presenters

Emrik Suichies

Emrik Suichies has worked for the past 30 years as a manual therapist, physiotherapist, functional osteopath, biophysical health practitioner, orthomolecular practitioner and Smart DNA professional. His passion is teaching Yin Yoga in his New Health Centre, where he lives with his family in Sneek, Holland.

In his work as a practitioner, he teaches yoga teachers and physiotherapists how to bring yoga and healing together into the concept of New health.

He is the director of a clinical healthcare Centre in which physiotherapists, medical doctors, acupuncture therapists, naturopaths, and other professionals work together to increase the self-healing power of the patient.

If everyone in the world could feel and can move their “qi” with the right flow of the heart and the best intentions, global healthcare would be ... ?

Enjoy every day as if it was your last one!

Dr. Rainer Viehweger

Dr Rainer Viehweger started his career as a conventional orthopedic surgeon. After 16 years of work in the conventional field, he decided to open his private clinic offering complementary methods to help people with chronic pain and other problems.

He loves new physics, especially global scaling and always seeks for methods to help people living their own lives instead of “being lived by circumstances or other persons.” Today he practices trigger shockwave therapy, Psychosomatic Energetics in combination with NES and miHealth as his main fields.

“People always heal themselves, our part is helping to get rid of the rubbish.”

Debbie Hart

Debbie has been working in holistic health field for 13 years as a 1200 hour, CMT-P, professional manual therapist, Level II SCENAR therapist and trainer, cranio-sacral training therapist, NES coach and trainer, and kundalini yoga instructor. She changed careers to pursue her passion for healing after 18 years in the IT Software Consulting, Training and Education Development, having a BA in Education and completion towards an BS in Information Science.

Debbie's philosophy is that health is achieved when a person is able to find balance in all areas of body, mind, and spirit and by tapping into the profound, natural intelligence and powerful healing mechanisms innate in all of us. Her passion and mission in bringing all aspects of bioenergetic medicine and holistic healing into people's lives and homes continues in her current role as a bioenergetics medicine consultant, coach, and trainer for integrative medicine and holistic practitioners globally.

"Happiness is achieved when what you think, what you say, and what you do are all in harmony."

Irina Skoeries, Founder/CEO Catalyst Cuisine

Three years ago, Irina was diagnosed with a supposedly lifelong body-crippling autoimmune disease, rheumatoid arthritis. She became symptom-free by producing foods that follow a strict formula that is a naturally evolved blueprint to accelerate health and encompasses as many low lectin and anti-inflammatory components as possible.

She is living proof of how powerful this way of eating can be. Irina inspires and helps people to reap the benefits of low-lectin meals. She provides Catalyst Cuisine, an easy and affordable way for the world to have access to this food.

About Catalyst Cuisine

Catalyst Cuisine transforms lives. We deliver ready-to-eat meals prepared according to a strict formula that encompasses as many low-lectin and anti-inflammatory components as possible. Our meals accelerate health. We deliver nationwide the easiest way to optimize your health through food that is tasty.

Recognized and recommended by many, including singer/actress Olivia Newton-John, Catalyst Cuisine is also endorsed by Dr. Steven R. Gundry, M.D., and will be featured in his new book, "The Plant Paradox," published by Harper Collins.

"At any given moment you have the power to say, This is not how the story is going to end." —
